Is Marriage a Divine Contract

Bishop Henry C. Potter uttered his sweeping condemnation of divorce almost simultaneously with the publication of George Meredith's theorem that short-term marriage should be permitted. The American divine and the English novelist are at the extremes of the marriage question—the former holding to the ecclesiastical view that marriage is essentially a religious rite, creating an indissoluble bond, while the latter holds that wedlock is purely a social partnership. Each is entirely logical in the conclusion he draws from his premise. If men and women are really joined together in marriage by God, it necessarily follows that man has no right or power to break the bonds. The idea that man can dissolve an ordinance of the Deity is absurd in the highest degree. But, taking Mr. Meredith's view that wedlock is merely a domestic partnership, there is no logical reason why it should not be entered into for a longer or shorter term. In law all partnerships are dissolvable when either party to it fails to live up to the obligations of the contract and why should not marriage? The courts are forever deciding, however, that this or that should not be permitted on the ground that it is contrary to public policy. Admitting Meredith's conception of the marriage contract to be correct, the term proposition would still be open to the objection that it is against public policy as being destructive of domestic morality and corrupting in its influence on society. But the expressions of shocked surprise with which Mr. Meredith's suggestion has been greeted in this country are largely hypocritical. Our divorce laws virtually sanction term marriages. In some States mere "incompatibility" is a ground for dissolving the marital knot. Desertion is a common ground for divorce. By collusion any couple can get freed from each other by living apart for a stated period. The latitudinous construction given to the phrase "cruelty" enables a coach and four to be driven through the marriage pact. Therefore marriage under the law of most States is simply for an indefinite term, dissolvable at the pleasure of either party to it. Consequently Mr. Meredith's proposition is merely that all hypocrisy and pretense be done away with, and that the sexual relation be deprived of all claim to divine ordination or permanence. In thus stripping the question bare and laying it before the public in all its nakedness, the novelist has aided the cause of social reform instead of striking a blow at the family. He lifts the curtain and reveals the abyss toward which the civilized world is drifting. As he does this the voice of Bishop Potter is heard reasserting the doctrine on which the integrity of the family and the stability of Christian civilization rests—the closing words of the marriage sacrament—"what God hath joined together let no man put asunder." The bishop and the novel stand at the parting of the ways pointing in different directions. The roads can never cross or come together. Marriage is either a divine or a civil contract—it cannot be both, and if it be divine, it is beyond human jurisdiction to dissolve it.

The President's Pension Order

Judge Parker does not assail the principle laid down by the President in Pension Order No. 78, he merely finds fault with it on the ground that it is legally defective in a technical sense. So long as justice is done a body of brave and deserving men who have richly earned the Nation's gratitude, and no wrong has been inflicted on any one, the people will not be likely to split hairs over technical questions of legal procedure. The President's order was issued after Congress had refused to legislate on the question of age limit in determining disability. The President decided that when a man had reached the age of 60 he may fairly be presumed to be disabled so far as physical activities are concerned. This is common sense, and in accordance with everyday experience. The President contends, however, that in fixing this age limit he was exercising the discretionary power vested in him by Congress, and points out that Presidents Cleveland and McKinley exercised the same discretionary authority. Had President Roosevelt failed to do what he did deserving veterans would now be suffering from injustice as the result of the neglect of Congress to legislate. There are times when paltry technicalities need to be swept aside that the Nation may be rightly served and its honor kept bright. It may be remembered that in 1861 President Buchanan found technical legal objections in the way of putting down rebellion. President Lincoln was denounced as a tyrant and a usurper because he brushed those technical objections aside. Technical objections are now raised to doing justice to the men who answered Lincoln's call for volunteers in 1861. Democratic sensitiveness in this particular seems to be a long time wearing off.

Two Sides to Labor Proscription

Government by injunction has received another twist. The miners of Colorado have employed it as a weapon against the Citizens' Alliance, a Leadville Judge having issued an order restraining the mine-owners from discriminating against the Western Federation of Miners. It is difficult, however, to see how men can be compelled to employ Union miners against their will. No man can be compelled against his will to work or another, while employers are free to hire or discharge at their own discretion. It is a proposition that is as broad as it is long. Taking or giving employment is a voluntary contract between two parties neither of whom can be compelled by legal process to enter into it unless the conditions are satisfactory. In the beginning, the Western Federation of Miners demanded that the mine-owners discriminate against non-union men. Now the mine-owners are discriminating against Union men. To state the case exactly, the mine-owners have banded themselves together and agreed not to employ members of the Miners' Union. They have put unionism as completely under ban as the Western Federation of Miners put non-union men under ban. The boot has been put on the other leg. The law can intervene to prevent violence, intimidation or conspiracy to prevent the exercise of lawful rights, but it has no power to vitiate the right of private contract. It is every man's inalienable right to quit his employment at will where no specific contract forbids, and the right of peremptory discharge for any cause, or no cause, is equally broad, legally speaking. There are moral and humanitarian considerations, however, that weigh along with policy in such matters, but the weight must be measured by the sense of justice of the parties interested plus the force of public sentiment. Ethically considered, however, can an organization based on discrimination, and fundamentally opposed to granting the freedom of opportunity to all, complain of injustice when its own members are discriminated against and denied the opportunity to labor? If union men deny the right of employers to employ non-union men how can they consistently deny the right of employers to proscribe them? It is a poor rule that will not work both ways. This appears to be a case of a poor rule working both ways and working a great deal of mischief and injustice.

Is Kaiser Wilhelm trying to prove that he is really an opera bouffe monarch by leading the corps de ballet in a musical extravaganza? At any rate his proceeding will not arouse as much gossip as King Leopold's method of dealing with the ladies of the ballet.

The Russians and Japs show no disposition to adopt General Corbin's plan of having the fighting stopped at 3 p. m. each day in order to give the officers time to dress for dinner.—Washington Post.

Send Mr. Gurney Home

The British lion has been mollified and Uncle Sam is not now in any immediate danger of being eaten blood raw. Justice Phelps, of Lee, Massachusetts, has licked the dust off the wheels of the automobile of Hugh Gurney, third secretary of the British embassy, the Governor of Massachusetts has apologized, the Lieutenant-Governor has apologized, and the State Department at Washington has expressed its regrets at the indignity inflicted upon His Britannic Majesty's representative. Grim visaged war has therefore smoothed its wrinkled front and laid down for another peaceful nap. But we should like to know if the incident has created a precedent whereby British diplomatic attaches are permitted to violate the laws of this country with impunity. It appears that Mr. Gurney not only violated the law but was extremely insolent to the magistrate when arraigned for his offense. He made no apology or excuse for speeding his automobile faster than the law allows, but defied the justice and waxed arrogantly indignant that his sacred person should have been interfered with. His bumptious conduct under the circumstances was a distinct affront to this country and its laws, and for that reason should not be overlooked. Our Government should politely have given the British Foreign Office to understand that Mr. Gurney's presence in the United States is offensive and should be abated. The immunity from arrest he enjoys is not a license to violate the law and insult courts, and the distinction should be so sharply drawn that no other bumptious diplomatic underling will be tempted to follow the Gurney example.

THE SLEEPY-HEAD.

BY LESTER J. SKIDMORE.

How I do hate at early morn
Before the sun is in the skies,
To hear the folks a-calling me
And I can't open up my eyes.
I try my best to open them,
But 'fore I scarcely take a peep
I hear a voice as in a dream,
And know that I have been asleep.
For I am such a sleepy-head,
And I do like to lay in bed.

"Willie!" my mother calls to me,
"Are you to lie in bed all day?"
I answer back, "I'm getting up."
And then an hour fades away.
And when at last I come down stairs
I feel ashamed as I can be;
For everybody's off to work,
And there's nobody 'round but me.
I hate to be a sleepy-head,
But I do like to lay in bed.

My father often lectures me
About the worm and early bird;
And says a boy who lays a-bed
Was never known by deed or word
To make his mark in this big world.
But mother always has her say;
And says she knows a boy of hers
Can't fail to always make his way.
And said she'd read of sleepy-heads—
And great men, too—who liked their beds.

WHAT KNOWLAND'S ELECTION MEANS.

While not directly connected with politics, the sale of the Union Iron Works to the Ship Building Trust, is not without its political aspect. It is generally thought that no more war vessels will be built there, and the sale is looked upon as a serious blow at the prosperity of the Coast. Fortunately, however, the Government has its navy yard at Vallejo and Congressman Knowland will be expected to see that the government builds ships there instead of at San Francisco. It is hoped that the navy yard will be kept building war vessels all the time, and it will have no strikes to contend with, it is thought that ships can be built there much more rapidly than they have been lately at the Union Iron Works. Many of the mechanics who have contributed to make the works famous will no doubt find employment at the Vallejo yard, and the money spent in ship building will not be allowed to leave the State. The election of Congressman Knowland therefore becomes far more important than it would be under other circumstances, and it is a good thing that there is no human possibility of his defeat. His election means millions every year to California, and a big increase in the population of Vallejo.—S. F. Correspondence Watsonville Republican.

SOME GOOD ADVICE TO BERKELEY.

Undeterred by the unfortunate fate of the bond campaign in Oakland, the progressive people of Berkeley propose to go ahead with their own agitation for a like purpose. Something like half a million dollars in bonds it is proposed to issue, for various public uses. If the Berkeley people will carefully eliminate all jobs and schemes from their proposition (provided there be any lurking in it), and suppress any real estate or transit deal that may be attempted, there is a good prospect that the voters will indorse the bonds. Otherwise, otherwise. The people are very wide awake to the possibility in this connection and will defeat anything of the kind that may be attempted.—Alameda Argus.

DEFEATED BY ONE PROPOSITION.

The proposition to issue bonds in the city of Oakland for public improvements was defeated so decisively as to leave no doubt, as to public sentiment on the subject, at least as it was proposed in this instance. It is to be regretted that the outcome was in that direction, though it is not wholly a surprise, nor yet proof inconclusive that the people over there are in the abstract adverse to a bond issue for public improvements. There was one proposition in the group that somehow was not got up to the voters in an attractive form—at least, not in a clear-cut form. That appeared to carry all the others down with it.—Alameda Argus.

State Medical Institute

Many People From All Parts of the States Are Now Being Treated at This Institution.

CONSULTATION AND EXAMINATION FREE.

The great number of patients who have taken advantage of one week's free treatment, which we have given for the last twenty days, has made it impossible to wait upon them or do justice to them, therefore, we have decided to discontinue the free treatment, but examination and consultation will continue to be strictly free and without cost to the patient. Whether you be afflicted with disease, whether young or old, men, women or children, you are sick, if you feel poorly, and have medicine cannot cure you, come at once and investigate the successful treatment given at the State Medical Institute. No matter what your trouble may be, if you are not getting well, come to us at once.

We would especially invite all persons who have been suffering with diseases of long standing which have resisted former treatment, for we know well by experience that a large number of such cases can be treated successfully and cured by giving the proper medicines in the proper way.

After you visit this institution and see the large collection of pure, fresh drugs and the manner in which they are dispensed, and the electric and scientific apparatus and all the means that are necessary for the cure of disease, you will then be satisfied that the State Medical Institute or Sanitarium is well worthy of your patronage.

The Manager of the State Medical Institute, having spent the last thirty years in the treatment of special diseases, a good part of which time has been in the large hospitals of Europe, New York and Philadelphia, we especially claim to be well prepared for the successful treatment of diseases of the eye, the ear, the nose, the throat, and the lungs, and we believe that we are better prepared for the treatment of catarrh and lung diseases than any other medical institution in the West.

By a large experience with the formidable diseases of the heart, catarrh, asthma, rheumatism and the various kinds of indigestion, we feel that we can encourage every one suffering with these diseases to come to this institution with the assurance of being cured.

Where patients for any reason cannot visit the Institute, one of the doctors from the Sanitarium will see them at their homes as often as necessary.

The doctors of the State Medical Institute treat and cure all diseases of the eye, ear, nose, throat and lungs, heart, kidneys, bladder, brain, catarrh, asthma, rheumatism, bronchitis, headache, insomnia, neuritis, and malaria, dyspepsia, diseases, neuralgia, diabetes, dyspepsia, dropsy, hemorrhoids and rectal troubles, and all forms of sores, blood and wasting diseases.

All private and wasting diseases promptly cured and their effects permanently eradicated from the system. Diseases of women and children given special attention.

Nervous diseases and nervous prostration made a specialty. Eczema, blood and all skin diseases promptly cured.

Consultation either at the Institute, at the patient's home, or by mail, free. Office hours—9 to 11 a. m., 2 to 6 p. m., and 7 to 8 p. m. Sundays, 10 to 12 a. m. STATE MEDICAL INSTITUTE, SANITARIUM.

Permanently located at No. 1150 1/2 Broadway, Oakland, Cal. Phone Black 4511.

TEA AT THE PENNOYER HOME.

One of the largest of the recent teas was given in Berkeley when Mrs. Albert A. Pennoyer entertained her friends. The "at home" was in honor of Mrs. Pennoyer's cousin, Mrs. Walter Snyder of Toledo.

When the hour for the tea was at hand, the rain poured in a great storm from the skies. Now, nobody especially cares about rain—it is simply a fine experience to drive in a pouring rain storm, or to walk briskly along in the face of the wind, if one has on rain clothes. But with one's best gown, and late new hat it is quite another matter.

One feels so foolish and looks so ridiculous, gotten up in the late new fashionable effects, trying to scurry from one car to another. One's umbrella won't open, or else the wind threatens to blow it inside out, or it drops rain on one's treasured hat in the most exasperating way.

So when it is a matter of a tea, brave as one may be, one usually looks at her best hat—then at the lowering skies, and decides to stay home.

But Mrs. Pennoyer's tea proved the exception to the rule. There were nearly two hundred guests in the large drawing room, and the tea was one of the crushes of the season. And the remarkable thing about it was, that Oakland and San Francisco were well represented.

Among the handsome gowns of the afternoon were those worn by Mrs. A. J. Ralston, Mrs. A. A. Pennoyer, Mrs. Prentiss Selby, Mrs. Harry Gordon, Mrs. Walter Snyder. The tea was one of the most elaborate affairs given this year at Berkeley.

GRIFFITH-DUNNING ENGAGEMENT.

The engagement of Mrs. Mittle S. Griffith and Major Samuel Dunning, U. S. Army, was announced yesterday at the dinner given to Miss Ruth Adams, by her sister Mrs. John P. Jackson, at their home in Burlingame. Mrs. Griffith, is both handsome and accomplished, and will receive the hearty congratulations of her many friends in Oakland and San Francisco. The wedding will take place about the middle of November.

JUST DISCOVER THE COOK.

If you are at a loss for conversation in any gathering, just discuss the cook. Instantly interest fairly beams on everybody's face. Each woman could tell a tale of woe and joy, if she cared to, and no matter what story she told, it would be sure to be interesting.

It is no longer provincial to talk to one's servants—it is simply that a great problem, affecting all home-keeping is upon the nation, and until we can settle the domestic service problem, we cannot expect the Angel of Peace to abide with us. It was at Ebelle the other afternoon when the Nineteenth Century Section was entertaining its friends, that some characteristic kitchen sketches were given. They were even more interesting than the classical speeches of the distinguished speakers.

One little matron was hurrying home to prepare the dinner. You could just imagine the rapidity with which she would fly out of the lovely reception town, and in Cinderella garb, cook the dinner for the family.

Miss Gertrude Myer

One member of a group of interested guests remarked, "I don't think anyone ever had such a cook as Fate has sent our way. But we wouldn't like to let her know what we think for all the world."

"She can't cook a little bit, and she always asks me, 'Will you have it cooked the French way—or the German way—or the other way?'"

"Well," said the little matron with a sigh of reminiscence, "whatever way she cooks it, you wish it had been the other way!" And she had the profound sympathy of the group of listeners.

YOUNGS TO GO TO HONOLULU.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Young, Miss Bertha Young, and Mrs. von Hamme leave for Honolulu on the twentieth of October, and Rosecrest will be closed for the winter. It is quite uncertain when it will again be opened, for Mr. Young is planning a trip to the Orient, and when the family can leave Honolulu again, it will probably be to go to the Far East.

Doctor and Mrs. McNab have returned from their wedding trip, and are at Rosecrest.

Miss Pearl King is planning a very elaborate dinner for Friday evening in honor of Doctor and Mrs. McNab. There are to be twenty guests, all old friends, and the guest list will, of course, include all the wedding party. The table decorations are to be pale pink bridesmaid roses, and the menu cards were brought from Europe, Miss

King choosing them in a recent trip abroad.

PALMERS HAVE GONE EAST.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer and Miss Bessie Palmer left town on Tuesday, going East and to Europe. They will sail before long for England, and they expect to spend the winter in Southern Europe, being in Rome for the Christmas holidays.

They have given up the residence on Jackson street, and their furniture is now being stored. Miss Bessie Palmer will be greatly missed from the social affairs of the season.

The Silas Palmers have been East, and they have also been visitors to the S. Louis Exposition. They expect to spend the winter at the Holbrook home in San Francisco.

TAFTS WILL SOON COME HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay Taft and Miss Christie Taft expect to leave the East for this coast about the middle of October. Mr. Taft is greatly improved in health, and expects to resume his business interests on his return.

The Tafts have been in New York, but they are now in Danville, which represents one of the important sanatoriums of the country.

There are never less than 600 guests at the Sanatorium, and it is in every way like one of the large New York hotels.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR MISS THOMSON.

Mrs. Oscar Luning is one of the prettiest and brightest of hostesses, and when she entertains, she personally plans every detail, so that the guests have more than the usual good time.

Last Saturday Mrs. Luning entertained for Anita Thomson, who has always been a great friend of Mrs. Luning.

An elaborate and very delightful luncheon was served in the Palm Garden of the Palace Hotel. The decorations of the table were exquisite. Cecil Bruner roses. After luncheon Mrs. Luning entertained her guests at the California Theater, the play for the afternoon, being the superb drama, "Tess of the D'Urbervilles."

The guests who enjoyed Mrs. Luning's hospitable luncheon and theater party were Miss Beatrice Tife, Mrs. John F. Connors, Mrs. George Perkins Jr., Miss Charlotte Elsey, Miss Connors, Miss Anita Thomson.

HAVE BOUGHT THE GOLF HOUSE.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Rasmussen have bought the picturesque golf house that so long adorned Adam Point, and was the scene of so many picturesque gatherings in the past.

The club house has been moved to Boulevard Terrace, and is being remodeled, and the Rasmussens bid fair in the future to have one of the most artistic residences in that part of the city.

AT HOME AT THE SCHILLINGS.

Cards were received late this week, announcing an "at home" to be given by Mrs. August Schilling.

The reception is set for Thursday, October 13th, from three until six o'clock, and will be given at the Schilling family home on Jackson street.

It is such a perfectly charming home, and it will make a superb background for one of the most notable receptions of the season. Mrs. Schilling knows a great many prominent people, and her list is sure to be a representative one. People always love to be invited to the Schilling home, and to this special "at home" will be sent very few regrets.

ENTERTAINED AT DINNER.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Palmanteer entertained at dinner on Friday evening. The dinner was given in honor of Eastern guests.

MISS PALMANTEER COMING HOME.

Miss Carolyn Palmanteer has spent a most delightful summer abroad. She traveled with a party of friends, who planned an unusually interesting tour of Europe. They spent some weeks in Paris, and went on to Italy, spending much time in Rome and Florence.

The party of tourists is back again in Paris, and expects to sail for home the first of October. Miss Palmanteer is coming directly home, and will be here about the middle of October.

MRS. MILLER'S AT HOME.

Among the pleasant "at homes" of the week was that given by Mrs. Bernard Miller, at her home on Boulevard Terrace.

Mrs. Miller has been "at home" for four Wednesdays, and has succeeded in entertaining most hospitably a large circle of friends.

Mrs. Miller, who was pretty Mae Burdge, looked specially well in a dainty tulle gown of white chiffon, the corsage showing a bertha of rare lace.

She was assisted in receiving by Miss Winnifred Burdge, who is spending some days with her sister.

Winnifred Burdge grows prettier every day, and on Wednesday, she wore her handsome bridesmaid's gown of pink. Every one likes Winnifred Burdge, and their affection carries with it a great deal of respect, for her independence which leads her to work hard to win her way in a profession.

She is studying hard to be a nurse, and is succeeding in her efforts at the Children's Hospital. There is one thing which must truly be said for the girls of Arbor Villa. Each one of them could earn her own living if she had to, and each one works hard in some line of study, for there are never any idle people at Arbor Villa.

And it is a lesson which might be learned in many other homes in this city.

Mrs. Miller entertained an unusually large number of guests on Wednesday, and among the very interesting gowns of the afternoon were those worn by Mrs. T. L. Barker, Mrs. Isaac Requa, Mrs. R. W. Gorrell, Mrs. W. E. Sharon, Miss Anita Oliver, Miss Anita Thomson, Miss Cordie Bishop, Miss Gertrude Allen, Mrs. Dan Fielden, Mrs. Harry Farr, Mrs. Henry Nicholls, Mrs. Frank Kendall, the Misses Rutherford, Miss Annie Frances Briggs, Miss Emma Mahoney, Miss Ada Kenna, Mrs. Irving Burrell, Miss Connors, Mrs. George Hammer, Miss May Coogan, Miss Viva Nicholson, Miss Tiny Lohse, Miss Violet Whitney, Mrs. Thomas Phoby Jr.

MRS. RICHARDSON IS ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. William H. Richardson, formerly Bessie Gage, will leave in October for her home in Texas. Mr. Richardson will meet her in S. Louis, and they will visit the exposition before returning to their home in Austin.

Mrs. George Gross is to entertain for her sister, very informally on Saturday, the invitations having been sent over the telephone. Five hundred will be played during the afternoon, and the guests will be for the most part chosen from the Tuesday Five Hundred Club.

Mrs. Richardson was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Mrs. Wickham Havens, at picturesque "Thorndale," her country home.

The table was decorated in a most effective way, and the guests were Mrs. William H. Richardson, Mrs. George Gross, Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld, Mrs. George De Golia, Mrs. Edward Howard, Mrs. David Proctor, Mrs. Edward Engs, Miss Carrie Nicholson, Miss Belle Nicholson, Mrs. Albert Long.

MRS. GEORGE HAMMER ENTERTAINS.

Luncheons are a favorite form of entertainment these autumn days, and Mrs. George Hammer has been the hostess at some very interesting luncheon gatherings.

She was the hostess at the last of a series of luncheons given at her home at Linda Vista on Thursday.

One hears a great deal of Mrs. Hammer's very dainty decorations, and the table on Thursday followed an attractive color scheme in pink—carried out with pink blossoms and pink tulle.

The guests at the pretty luncheon were: Mrs. Dieckmann, Mrs. Dunn, Mrs. Thomas Phoby, Mrs. Chancellor, Mrs. Koser, Mrs. Grace Gowing, Mrs. William Morrison, Mrs. Walter Henry, Mrs. Alexander Marx, and the Misses Florence Hush, Margaret Sinclair, Elsie Marwedel, Mary Wilson, and Harriet Hall.

MEN ENJOY TEAS.

One of our prominent citizens the other day was listening to a little street car talk, where friends were regretting that the man of the house did not enjoy the teas that his wife and daughters were giving.

"Oh, but we do," he said. "Men have a very good time indeed. We come home and look at all the flowers and ask who sent them, and we look at the cards, to see who had called, and they tell us all the news and we enjoy the eatables, and the drinkables and the ice cream-ables. Oh, yes, we have a very good time indeed at the tea, and we don't have the trouble of entertaining the guests."

It sounds intensely human, you can see the picture for yourself, and you know it to be a life sketch.

WEDDING AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

On Wednesday evening St. Paul's was the scene of one of the most beautiful weddings of the year when Miss Matie Root became the bride of Dr. Samuel Ross Langdon of Stockton.

The church decorations were most artistic, showing a color scheme of green and white.

The bride was attractive in a gown of embroidered chiffon over white satin. The tulle veil was caught in place by a spray of lilies of the valley and a diamond sunburst, the gift of the groom. The bride's bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley.

Miss Annabel Root attended her sister as maid of honor and wore a gown of lace. The bridesmaids were Miss Nellie Gross of Oakland, Miss Amy Ferguson and Miss Edna Ewing of Stockton and Miss Howell of Modesto. They wore elaborate gowns of white, point d'esprit with crowns of white forget-me-nots and carried shower bouquets of maiden hair fern.

Mr. Dorsey Ewing of Stockton acted as best man. The ushers were: Mr. Herman Miller of Visalia, Mr. Walhall of Modesto, Dr. Alderson of San Francisco and Dr. Charles Gross of Oakland.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, 1291 Allice street. The home was artistically decorated in pink and green.

The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Nellie Gross.

The wedding gifts were numerous and beautiful.

At a late hour Dr. and Mrs. Langdon departed on their honeymoon. After a week spent at Del Monte they will visit the Fair at St. Louis and spend some months visiting the prominent cities of the East and Canada. On their return they will reside in Stockton.

PASSING OF HILLER ALLEN.

All the many friends of the Costigan household were very sorry for the great trouble which came to the family in the passing of Hiller Allen. He has been ill so long, that much care and affection centered about him and his mother and sisters gave him a quiet devotion rare and beautiful.

Hiller Allen was a young man who had many friends. He had the optimistic outlook characteristic of the family and he was generous and good hearted to a degree.

He was brave too, through long months of suffering and only mental aberration could have prompted him to end it. It was all a great shock to Mrs. Costigan and to Mrs. R. L. Dunn. Hiller Allen spent a great deal of time with his sister, who made him very happy in her pretty home across the bay.

The funeral services were very simple with just the family and a few of the most intimate friends about the flower-laden bier.

Mrs. Costigan had asked the few friends she wished to be near her and there was the quiet reading of messages from the Bible, each bringing its own words of comfort.

And then Hiller Allen was laid away, leaving affectionate memories to his household of a loving soul who had suffered much in life and had at last found rest.

MRS. SCUPHAM IS ORIGINAL.

Mrs. J. R. Scupham always has many original and unique surprises at any social affair at her home. On Thursday she entertained at a luncheon in honor of Mrs. James Hanna of Columbus, who is spending the autumn here, the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. W. Kinsey.

The decorations were all in autumn tones, and the name cards were very picturesque Oakland post cards, on which each guest wrote her name, making them very interesting souvenirs.

There was an original little sewing box, at the close of the luncheon, and the prize went to the guest who could make the best buttonhole, and was carried off by Mrs. Shaw.

I am afraid the button hole test would be pretty hard on the average society set—and if a prize were given, I know, "way down in my heart" who would be sure to walk home with "The Booby Prize."

INVITATIONS OUT FOR WEDDING.

Invitations were sent out this week by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Appleton Hooper, for the wedding of their daughter Isabella and Mr. Wriglington Ellis Creed.

The wedding is set for the afternoon of October fifteenth, at three o'clock. Many invitations have been sent out, and the wedding will be one of the most interesting of the large October affairs.

METCALFS WELL ENTERTAINED.

Secretary and Mrs. Metcalf have been dining and feasting to such an extent that they must surely carry away many happy memories of Oakland friends.

To be sure it does not often come Oakland's way to send to Washington a member of the President's Cabinet, and we might be pardoned for openly rejoicing at the event. But aside from that, the Metcalfs have lived here so many years, that they have many warm friends.

The largest social event planned in their honor, was the reception given at the Home Club on Monday evening.

The Home Club has been established along very helpful lines. It is to lend assistance to worthy projects planned by other clubs, to take part in the social life of the town, and to lead the way, along some phases of club development.

And so it was fitting that the club should entertain Secretary and Mrs. Metcalf. The invitations could only be sent a few days beforehand and it was rather unfortunate that the reception came on the same evening that Mr. Kylie Bellew was due at the Mac-enough, as many had obtained their tickets.

But a large number of guests were present to greet Secretary and Mrs. Metcalf, and most of the prominent families of the city were represented. The guests were received by Miss E. M. Moore, the able president of the Home Club, and she was assisted in receiving by the board of directors of the club.

Among those who called to congratulate Secretary and Mrs. Metcalf were: Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Requa, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Butters, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Connors, Miss Corolla Selby, Mrs. E. J. Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown, Miss Anita Thomson, Mrs. A. A. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Bush, Miss Florence Hush, Judge and Mrs. F. B. Ogden, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. S. Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Miller, Miss Winifred Burdick, Miss Mabel Gray, Mr. B. F. Pendleton, Miss Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. John Valentine, Mrs. George Percy, Miss Isabelle Percy, Mrs. W. S. Goodfellow, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Scupham, Miss Scupham.

There was music by the Hawaiian string band, and some beautiful singing by Miss Kirsleinick, whose accompaniments were delightfully played by Mrs. Heath.

A delicious supper was served up stairs in the gallery, and after supper, dancing was in order for the young people.

Everyone was surprised at the magnificent collection of pictures which now hang in the Home Club. Some of the very valuable pictures have hung in the Paris Salon, and the others all definitely represent most exquisite works of art. They are well worth studying, and they add immensely to the attractions of the beautiful Home Club.

MR. AND MRS. REQUA ENTERTAIN.

Mr. and Mrs. Requa also entertained at an elaborate dinner for Secretary and Mrs. Metcalf. The decorations were among the most artistic of the season, and represented autumn effects splendidly worked out in grapes, grape vines, autumn leaves, and deep red and yellow roses. The dinner was a very bright affair, and the after speeches were of more than the usual order of oratory.

DE YOUNGS GIVE A LUNCHEON.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. De Young entertained at an elaborate luncheon this week, in honor of Mr. Schwab, the steel magnate, who was on this coast for a few days.

The luncheon was given at "Meadowlands," the country home of the De Youngs near San Rafael, and one of the most beautiful suburban homes about the bay. The dining room showed a splendid scheme of decoration, and the luncheon was an exceedingly bright affair. Among the luncheon guests were General and Mrs. Oscar F. Long of this city.

ENGAGEMENT OF TOM DRISCOLL.

Tom Driscoll's engagement with Miss Alice Bacon of Santa Barbara will set at rest all the rumors of the San Francisco tables that the doughty polo player was engaged to Miss Eleanor McIlwain of this city. At one time the polo player was reported as being devoted to Colla Tobin, now Mrs. Charles Clark. But their affair turned out to be only a warm friendship founded on a similarity of taste in athletics. Young Driscoll formerly lived on the bay, but the family moved to this side, and Tom was always identified with the Blingum set. After his accident on the polo field last year he went South to recuperate and his long stay in Santa Barbara led his friends to suspect that there was more attraction in that quarter for him than the balmy air. Miss Bacon is said to be a very charming young girl, refined and clever. Driscoll is one of the most popular young men about town. Everybody likes him because, though he has loads of money and social position, there is nothing of the snob in his make-up.

Miss Alice Bacon is one of the most attractive girls of the younger navy set, being the daughter of Pay Director Albert W. Bacon, U. S. Navy, who was retired nearly two years ago with the rank of Rear-Admiral. The Bacoons have long been prominent in Washington society. Mrs. Bacon was one of the Stoughton girls of the Capital City, who were unusually popular belles there for many years. The Stoughtons originally came from one of the smaller Pennsylvania towns, but Stoughton's made most of his money in the hotel business. Bacon is quite a sportsman, and considered one of the greatest experts with rod and gun in the service. He now makes his home in California, following the example of many other older naval officers. In this connection it may be said that Berkeley is fast developing a naval colony. The university town is becoming more and more attractive to retired naval officers, the latest prominent officers to build permanent homes there being Rear-Admirals Merrill Miller and Henry Glass.—Town Talk.

WEDDING AT BERKELEY.

There is to be an elaborate wedding in exclusive circles in Berkeley. It will be the union of Miss Anne Maxwell Miller, daughter of Rear-Admiral Miller and Mrs. Miller, to Paymaster George Brown Jr., United States Navy. The ceremony will be performed in the First Presbyterian Church of Berkeley, on Wednesday evening, October 13th. After the wedding there will be a large reception at Berkeley Inn. As Paymaster Brown is attached to the "Massachusetts," which is stationed off the Atlantic Coast, the young couple will leave for the East directly after the wedding. Back of the engagement is the story of a long courtship, the prominent Admiral being very much opposed to his little daughter marrying in the navy. So determined was the opposition that it was found by Mrs. Miller that the lovers were contemplating a runaway match. That brought the gallant fighter to time. Never a child of his should have it to say that she had to fly from the paternal roof to find a more congenial one. The permission given by the Admiral to his subordinate and future son-in-law is said to have been something in this wise: "Take her, sir, if you have determined to do so, and damn it, take her with my blessing."—Wasp.

SOMETHING ABOUT BABY PARTIES.

I thought we had a monopoly in California of those extraordinary old people who delight to make fools of themselves by dressing in juvenile costumes and capering around at baby parties. I can imagine nothing on earth more idiotic than a fat old dame of forty winters dressed in short skirts, socks and slippers waddling around a parlor, with a bag of candy in her hand and simulating the artless tricks of childhood. Possibly a thin old woman might look worse, but that is a matter of taste, and could only be decided by some bald-headed man who had long been an occupant of the first row at the Tivoli.

Several times lately the Wasp has hinted at baby parties in this city and Oakland, which is much addicted to the vice. I say hinted, for if the editor dared to print the accurate descriptions of the bare legs and arms below and above the short skirts, he might find himself in trouble with the postoffice authorities; and if he described truthfully the exact feelings of the same people who saw the exhibitions, he might expect a libel suit. So a newspaper description of the average baby party has necessarily to be little more than a hint of what took place.

I do not know whether it is comforting or otherwise to find that San Francisco and Oakland are no the centers of twentieth century culture that indulge in baby parties. James B. Haggins has been giving one at his splendid mansion in Kent City in honor of Mrs. Haggins's guests Miss Isabelle Cameron, daughter of Sir Rodrick Cameron, and Lawrence Gillespie of Washington. Evidently, human nature is the same East as West of the Missouri river, and an overabundance of prosperity and a lack of plain common sense form a dangerous combination anywhere. The ball, it is reported, was led by W. T. Duncan and Mrs. Haggins, who is the young wife of the very old multi-millionaire. Thirty couples participated, all wearing white dresses, with bright red ties and sashes, and white baby caps with long white streamers. Colonel George Voorhes, father of the hostess, and 65 years old, if he is a day, appeared as Little Lord Fauntleroy.

The crowning feature of the entertainment, the telegraphic report states, was a sextet composed of six young society men of Lexington, dressed as girl babies, singing songs and performing dances made famous by the "Flonora" sextet. I don't think that was the climax. The climax was papa

Voorhes hopping around as Little Lord Fauntleroy, instead of being up in the privacy of his bedchamber praying for the Lord to keep him from making a fool of himself in his old age.

HOME CLUB ENTERTAINMENT.

It is many months since any club scored so unqualified a success as in the entertainment planned at the Home Club for the Social Settlement. Early in the afternoon a long procession of carriages might be seen winding its way to the Home Club; the procession varied now and then by the choo-chooing of an automobile bearing guests to the entertainment.

Long before the hour for the program the club was filled to overflowing with a bright audience, representing almost all the prominent families of the city. There was not even standing room when the curtain went up for the first number of the program. Financially it was a great success—it was also a success from a social point of view, and the program represented much artistic merit.

There was a spontaneous tribute of applause paid to Mr. Sebastian Lot for his splendid singing. He did some fine work, and his friends are predicting a great success for him in grand opera, the profession he has chosen. He is a protege of Mrs. Annis Montague, who has sung so successfully in opera.

Mr. Sebastian Lot is a graduate of Yale, and is most interesting, and he is certainly among the leading singers of the coast. Mrs. Annis Montague is a sister of Mrs. S. T. Alexander, and comes here from Honolulu. She is to make her permanent home in San Francisco. Mrs. Montague was also on the program and gave in fine style the beautiful song, "Knowest Thou That Land?" Among the singers was Miss von Kirsleinick, about whom we have all heard so much lately. She has a wonderfully fine contralto voice, perfectly trained, and she gave her selections with much exquisite shading and genuine artistic feeling.

Mrs. John Heath added to the value of the musical selections with her fine accompaniments.

The farces were very good indeed, the characters being exceedingly well played by Miss George Cope and Reeves Baker.

Mr. Fred Hotelling surprised every one, and he carried off honors side by side with the professionals. His first number was beautifully given, and the second one was the most charming little French song, "Toujours L'Amour." It was sung with great expression, and made you wonder where Mr. Hotelling acquired that perfect accent. It was the envy of most of the listeners. And as a grand finale, Doctor Frank Rodolph simply brought down the house. Seated in the middle of the stage, to the accompaniment of a mandolin, he sang a jolly, rollicking topical song, "What You May See on the New York Elevated," and indeed there are wonderfully funny sights that you may see, according to Doctor Rodolph. The applause that greeted him rose to the roof, and for once the encore rule was broken, and he had to sing again. There was an intermission which was much enjoyed by the audience. The young girls of the large receiving party moved among the guests, and every one was served with the most deliciously cool fruit punch and the dainty little cakes about which we hear so much from the housekeepers these days.

Every one thoroughly enjoyed the informal reception before and after the entertainment, and it is estimated that there were about five hundred people present.

One noticed the number of perfectly beautiful gowns, making up an ensemble full of life and color. The large receiving party did its work exceedingly well, though so great a crowd was not expected. Every one was served with a program, with refreshments and made as happy and as welcome as possible. The value of a large receiving party was fully demonstrated in the crowded audience of the Home Club.

Among the many guests of the afternoon Mrs. Henry A. Butters looked exceedingly well. She looked young enough to be the elder sister of pretty Marguerite Butters.

Mrs. Butters wore a simple gown of white, daintily made, and set off with an exquisite necklace of pearls. Mrs. Wheaton wore a handsome gown in gray effects, the costume finished with a very becoming French hat, an exquisite toque, trimmed in roses.

Mrs. Edison Adams wore a very handsome reception gown in tones of pink, the pretty gown set off with a toque, also showing pink effects.

Four very pretty young matrons sat together—Mrs. George S. Wheaton, Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald, Mrs. William H. Morrison and Mrs. Thomas Bailey Pheby. Mrs. Pheby looked very pretty indeed, in a gown of blue, with a picture hat of white.

One of the most beautiful gowns of the afternoon was worn by Mrs. Oscar Luning, who dresses always in exquisite taste. The gown was in tones of light mauve, superbly trimmed in lace. Her hat showed a toque effect, in Parisian shades of pink and blue. She looked very pretty indeed. Miss Charlotte Elsey was with Mrs.

MRS. BERNARD P. MILLER WHO HAS BEEN GIVING A SERIES OF "AT HOMES" THIS MONTH.

Luning, wearing a gown of white, hand-embroidered, and set off with a white lingerie hat.

Miss Mona Crellin wore a dainty costume of pink chiffon, and her hat showed a toque effect, and was beautifully trimmed in roses.

Mrs. George Perkins, Jr. made a very stunning picture in a costume entirely of white, the gown set off with a large white picture hat.

Mrs. Arthur Drake's gown was in gray tones, with a touch of burnt orange, which gave it a French effect. A wide black hat added to the costume.

Mrs. E. R. Crellin (Camille D'Arville) was in the audience. Her gown of blue was set off by a wide hat of blue, the latter trimmed with a large blue feather.

Mrs. Palmanteer looked very pretty indeed, in an all white gown with a white hat.

Mrs. George W. Percy was a very picturesque Martha Washington. She wore the historical costume, and she sold cake at a picturesque little cake table. The recipe for the cake came down in her family since the days of Martha Washington, and for 10 cents you had a piece of the cake, and you had also the old recipe from which it was made.

Among the young matrons one of the most beautiful was Mrs. Minor Goodall. She was gowned in white, the corsage trimmed in rare lace.

Miss Ethel Moore was superbly gowned in pale lavender over silk. The skirt was magnificently trimmed in lace. The waist had wide, long sleeves, and the corsage was trimmed with a bertha of wide lace. It was one of the most superb gowns in the room.

Miss Florence Hush wore a gown of white organdie. The skirt was in graduated tucks, and the gown was very becoming.

Miss Lucretia Burnham wore a pretty gown of white, very daintily made.

Mrs. Evans wore a gown of flowered silk, and Mrs. T. L. Birker wore a gown of gray beautifully trimmed in lace.

Miss Ethel Valentine was in lavender, the pretty bridesmaid gown of the Valentine-Moore wedding. It was very becoming.

Mrs. Bernard Miller wore a pretty tulle gown of blue, and her sister, Miss Winifred Burdick, was in pink.

Mrs. John F. Connors was in white, her gown set off with a wide hat, trimmed in pink roses and Venetian lace.

Mrs. E. J. Barrett wore a costume of black, beautifully made, and very becoming in 1830 style.

Mrs. Samuel Taylor wore a gown of black tulle, beautifully applied in lace medallions.

Miss Nellie Chabot wore one of the handsomest costumes of the afternoon. A beautiful French gown, made in most picturesque way—a gown that showed the finest artistic effects.

The young girls of the Maple Club set worked hard during the afternoon and the hall looked simply beautiful. They are a wonderfully pretty set of girls, some of them giving promise of much beauty in the time to come.

Miss Ruth Houghton wore a charming gown in blue and white silk, and she is most sweet and he still in any work she has to do.

Miss Ruth Kales wore one of the most fascinating gowns of the afternoon, a dainty flowered chiffon.

Miss Rose Kales wore a pretty gown of white, lighted with very artistic trimmings of yellow.

Miss Anita Thomson was very pretty indeed, gowned in white, the gown set off with a girde of light blue. It was a simple and effective costume. The sort of gown appropriate for a young girl.

Miss Charlotte Hall was in red, a very becoming color, and Miss Lillie Isaacs wore the very daintiest of gowns, a pink and white dimity.

Miss Katherine Brown, who is a tall and stately young girl, was beautifully gowned in pink.

Miss Marguerite Butters was very pretty indeed, in a New York gown of white, with little pink roses in her hair.

Miss Savilla Hayden was in white, her gown beautifully trimmed in lace.

Miss Helen Dornin wore a gown of pink flowered chiffon, and Miss Edna Orr looked exceedingly well, also gowned in pink.

Miss Edna Prather was one of the prettiest of the young girls and she wore a very dainty gown in gray effects.

Other pretty gowns of the young girls were worn by Miss Essie Coghill, Miss Helen Thomas, Miss Florence Treadwell, Miss Katherine Barnes, Miss Fay Chapman, Miss Alice Hoyt.

Other interesting gowns were those of Mrs. John Valentine, Miss Bates, Miss Janet Haight, Mrs. P. L. Wheeler, Miss Corolla Selby, who has the most perfectly delightful foreign gowns, Mrs. W. J. McClure, Mrs. T. C. Coogan, Mrs. Lucile May Hayes, Mrs. Wellman, Miss Wellman, Mrs. A. D. Thomson, Miss Margaret Dunn, Miss Alice Dunn, Mrs. Edward Prather, Mrs. C. H. Redington, Mrs. Fredericks, Mrs. J. K. McLean, Mrs. Edward Walsh, Mrs. P. L. Wheeler, Miss Nellie Jones, Miss Charlotte Center, Mrs. Anthony, Mrs. William R. Davis, Mrs. John Tule, Mrs. James Johnson, Miss Playter, Mrs. Franklin Bangs, Miss Fanny Smith, Mrs. Ida Gorrell, the Misses Gorrell, Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. A. L. Stone, Miss Mollie Mathes, Mrs. R. H. Chamberlain, Miss Van Dyke, Mrs. Folger, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Harrison Clay, Mrs. Rodolph.

But one might go on indefinitely writing names, for it was just as one of the guests said, "All of Oakland is here."

And, of course, Miss Ethel Moore, and the big receiving party are jubilant. They worked hard, and they succeeded in scoring the big social success of the year up to date.

And, after all, it is a great comfort to have a good time, and to know that you are helping a worthy philanthropy, while you are thoroughly enjoying your afternoon.

MRS. HUGH WEBSTER TO ENTERTAIN.

Mrs. Hugh Webster will entertain informally at cards on Tuesday, the guest of honor of the afternoon being Miss Lillian Miller, whose engagement was announced earlier in the summer.

MISS BARRACLOUGH'S PRETTY ROMANCE.

Miss Josephine Winifred Barracough is expected to arrive at the Piedmont home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. T. Barracough, early in October. She is coming from Honolulu and is to remain for several months as the guest of her relatives. In fact, she is to be married to Percival J. Barracough, of Honolulu before she leaves the shelter of the pretty home in Piedmont. The wedding will be the outcome of the pretty romance begun while Miss Barracough was a guest of friends in the island. There is to be an elaborate ceremony, followed by a reception at the home of the young bride's sister-in-law.

The Barracough home at Piedmont is among the most artistic of the many homes on that picturesque hillside. Miss Barracough has been away a great deal, and has been in mourning besides, so that there has not been much entertaining in the large house. But Mrs. Barracough is very hospitable, and the beautiful home will no doubt keep up the traditions of the past.

FRIDAY NIGHT CLUB INVITATIONS OUT.

The Friday Night Club invitations are being sent out this week, and the club bids fair to represent the largest dancing club ever organized on our side of the bay. The list of invitations will include the younger married set, the young people of the Maple Club, and of other clubs. Six hundred invitations will be sent out from which a large list of members will form the coming Friday Night Club.

UNIVERSITY'S SOCIAL ACTIVITIES.

We are all planning to make a dash for Berkeley this evening, to attend that picturesque torch-light procession in the Hearst Amphitheatre. Think of five hundred torches, and a big bonfire in the center of the amphitheatre!

And tomorrow we'll spend the day with Hamlet, the melancholy Dane—he is not exactly jolly company, but he is wonderfully worth while, as Ben Greet manages to present him.

And then, you really improve your mind, and that is a great deal, it these days of card playing, and the lighter side of life generally.

THE MEDDLER.

A happy little group enjoyed the play last evening at the Liberty where Miss Lucille Radcliffe entertained a party of young friends. The young people were charmed by Mrs. Zoe G. Radcliffe and after the last act of the clever comedy, the party adjourned to St. Paul's where a little surprise had been planned for the young people and her guests. A table laden with dainties and prettily decorated with red candles and maidenhair fern had been provided.

Those who participated included Mrs. Zoe G. Radcliffe, Miss Lucille Radcliffe, Miss Ramona Radcliffe, Miss Gretchen Kuerzel, Miss Elizabeth Smith, Miss Dora Smith, Miss Ester Corwin, Miss Lucille Cochran.

WILL ASSIST.

Among those who are working for the success of St. Paul's choral affair next Saturday is Miss June Connor, the talented daughter of Mrs. J. Torrey Connor.

Miss Connor is a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church choir and has a remarkable soprano voice. She is attending the Hopkins Art Institute and has gained reputation with her skillful pen.

PLEASANT AFFAIR.

Mrs. Wm. H. Cope was hostess on Thursday afternoon at her lovely home in Pleasanton at one of the largest and most delightful card parties of the season.

It was in every particular a "paper party" all the decorations, dishes, etc., being of the "paper" material. Every detail had been carefully planned, so that the party was a decided success throughout.

The reception hall, parlors and library were beautifully decorated in festoons of fancy green and red paper. Honolulu leis and many small Japanese lanterns, hanging from the ceiling, added to the effect. A table of paper flowers, to life-like that they seemed to be growing.

Assisting Mrs. Cope in receiving her guests were Miss Mary Cope, of Pleasanton, Mrs. A. W. Berr, of Eureka, Mrs. de Boon of San Francisco, and Miss Page of Palo Alto. A progressive euchre was the game chosen for the afternoon, prizes being won by Mrs. Tyler and Mrs. Wood.

Dainty refreshments in pretty paper dishes were served during the afternoon. Oyster and lettuce salad, pressed tongue sandwiches, vanilla and nut ice-cream, tender lemonade, cake, patties, and choice bonbons were enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Osborne and Miss de Boon added greatly to the enjoyment of the guests by their musical efforts. Altogether, the afternoon was one long to be remembered by all.

Those present from Pleasanton were: Mrs. Alfred Arnold, Mrs. A. A. Arnold, Mrs. Chas. Schwen, Mrs. Ernest Schwen, Mrs. Will Schwen, Mrs. Frank Davidson, Mrs. Edward Benedict, Mrs. Will Martin, Mrs. Phoebe Nelson, Mrs. E. W. Nelson, Mrs. P. H. Nelson, Mrs. Robert Black, Mrs. Arthur Wood, Mrs. Bessie Pruby, Mrs. G. Layman, Mrs. Frank Wellby, Mrs. D. Wells, Mrs. Flora Antler, Mrs. Will Graham, Mrs. Lou Crellin, Mrs. A. Harms, Mrs. G. Brandt, Mrs. Tom Zengert, Mrs. A. Vandervoort, Mrs. G. Ward, Mrs. Gerhard School, Mrs. T. Beckwith, Mrs. Hugh Sinsler, Mrs. Ed Cree, Mrs. Crawford, Leonard, Mrs. George Deljans, Mrs. F. Kruse, Mrs. Gertrude Madsen, Misses Elsie Benedict, Mary Cope, Lulu Schwen, Mrs. M. Harlan, Mrs. E. Harlan and Mrs. Osborne, of San Francisco; Mrs. de Boon of San Francisco, Miss Page of Palo Alto, Mrs. A. Berr, Eureka.

HAS GONE HOME.

Miss Florence Johns of Dayton, Ohio, who has been visiting Miss Ethel Dowdell, and became endeared to the younger set of Oakland, has departed for her Eastern home, visiting St. Louis, on her way. She was tendered a reception by many friends Thursday night before her departure.

WILL GO EAST.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mathews and Miss Pauline and Hope leave shortly for St. Louis for a visit to the World's Fair.

PRETTY WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss Alida Downing and Nilsen Hagen was one of the prettiest events recently. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. M. Hill under a wedding veil of white chrysanthemums and ferns. The spacious rooms had been decorated with flowers and greenery. A pretty cake in pink and green, about 100 friends participated in the reception after the ceremony.

The bride was crowned with a crown of flowers and wore a tulle and lace-trimmed gown. She carried a bouquet of white roses. The groom wore a tuxedo and carried a sword. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wood, who were assisted by their daughter, Miss Wood.

ARTIST'S SUCCESS.

Miss Anna Frances Briggs, the talented Oakland girl, is making a name for herself in the art world. She has just exhibited a series of water-colors at the Art Association, and her work has attracted the attention of well-known critics. Four of her water-colors have been hung upon the line in the British salon.

Miss Briggs was formerly a pupil of William Kelly and she has been studying under the guidance of her friends, who believed that the young Californian's work would win fame and fortune in the London salon.

are presented to Mrs. Thornburgh, of Regent Park, who is a near friend of Mrs. Briggs and a connoisseur of art. She sent the pictures to the exhibition and they were accepted entirely in merit. Miss Briggs will have her studio across the bay, where she will be home to her friends.

ELABORATE DINNER.

Miss Pearl King of East Oakland was hostess last evening at a dinner planned in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Reid McNab, who will soon leave for their home in Los Angeles. Covers were laid for Dr. and Mrs. McNab, Mrs. von Hamm, Miss Bertha Young, Miss Anita Oliver, Miss Carolyn Oliver, Miss Jane E. Lawson, Miss Marietta Havens, Miss Ethel Havemeyer, and Messrs. Robert Jewell, Walter Lumer, Harold Dillingham, Charles Bates, Harold Havens, Joseph King and Ed King.

BACK FROM FAIR.

Orin M. Bullock and wife are among those who have recently returned from a visit to the World's Fair, Chicago and other Eastern cities.

WHIST PARTY.

The closing event of the series of entertainments given prior to the opening of St. Anthony's Parish Fair will be a whist party under the auspices of the San Antonio Whist Club, on Tuesday evening, October 11, in St. Anthony's Hall. Special effort has been made to make this affair one of the most enjoyable yet held. Extra prizes have been secured. The party will begin at 8:30 sharp. Tickets, 25 cents.

LADIES' AID.

The Catholic Ladies' Aid Society, No. 1 will hold their regular meeting Monday afternoon at 2:30 in their hall. After the meeting a social will be given to the grand president, Miss Mary Carr.

CAMP FIRE.

Col John B. Wyman Circle, No. 22, Ladies' of the G. A. R., will give a camp fire, on Tuesday night at G. A. R. Hall, No. 551 Eleventh street, on October 10th.

PERSONALS.

Miss Grace Losh is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. M. Losh, at Suisun. Zack Bithell was in Suisun recently looking after property interests.

Miss Clair Mason is visiting in Santa Cruz. W. W. Cummings and D. H. Zatrny were in Modesto this week on a visit to their dairy ranch.

John Zwald was a recent visitor in Suisun. J. E. Emis is in Fresno, a guest at the Grand Central Hotel.

WILL ENTERTAIN.

Mrs. Guy Warner Brown will entertain half a dozen guests Monday at her home in Yerba Buena Island.

HERE ON A VISIT.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Gould of Farmington, Mo., are here on a visit. Gould is a nephew of the late Jay Gould.

A BANQUET.

The members of the Outlook Club enjoyed an elaborate banquet last night at the Hotel Metropole. The Rev. E. E. Baker read a paper on "The Institutional Church," followed by a general discussion.

Present included J. T. Allen, Rev. E. E. Baker, J. E. Baker, Rev. F. S. Smith of Alameda, D. E. Collins, Cary Howard, J. G. Hoyt, Professor W. C. Morgan, Professor C. S. Nash, Professor H. Pond, J. H. Stevens, Rev. H. J. Leach and Professor Allison.

"AT HOME."

Mrs. A. Schilling has sent out cards for a "large at home" to be given Thursday evening, October 10, at her home on Jackson street. The hours are from 3 until 6 and several hundred cards are out.

CLUB ENTERTAINED.

Miss Faith Sturtevant entertained the members of the Current Events Club from until 5 last Saturday in honor of Mrs. J. H. Roberts of Casita Rosa. The Roberts intend leaving shortly to make their home in Los Angeles, and Mrs. Roberts was the president of the Current Events club, the affair in her honor proved to be a happy gathering of mutual friends.

Cards served as a preliminary. Later the guests were seated at a round table and enjoyed a luncheon of luncheon, roasts, clever and amusing stories went around the board.

Among those who contributed their quota to the fund of wit and humor included the pretty hostess, Miss Faith Sturtevant, Mrs. F. H. Clark, Mrs. J. H. Clark, Mrs. W. S. Baxley, Mrs. L. H. Bassett, Mrs. E. L. Warner, Mrs. P. H. Bernays, Mrs. A. A. Danby and others.

LADIES GIVE BANQUET.

The ladies' section of the Oakland Fair Verein gave its annual banquet and luncheon at the Piedmont Springs Club house last night. Professor Paul Uth performed the duties of toastmaster. Those present were: Mesdames Gibbs, Tantz, Leu and Dr. Benjamin Uth, Messrs. L. Hasselbacher, M. Donnelly, J. Donnelly, K. Gardner, Fox, A. Thompson, Kirkness, M. Elliott, E. Schmidt, J. Hornung, J. Niehaus, Donnelly, Flynn, K. H. Bickling, Paul Uth, N. Gantz, Klunkner, W. Luga, W. Janga, Richard Lenz, H. Liedeker, Elliott, Dr. Donnelly.

LEAVES IN INTEREST OF UNIVERSITY

BERKELEY, October 1.—Mrs. May L. Cheney, appointment secretary at the University of California, departed for the east this morning. She is on leave of absence from the University of California, where she has been for the past several years.

At the meeting Mrs. Cheney will read a paper on "The College Woman." During the month of October Mrs. Cheney will visit a number of the leading Eastern universities, the purpose of collecting information in regard to the work of appointment secretaries in these institutions, the idea being that the University of California will have the latest and best methods of accomplishing this work and the best arrangement in the appointment secretary's office when California is completed. Her itinerary will include Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Chicago, Wellesley, Bryn Mawr, Cornell, Clark and Vassar.

WILL OPEN THE CAMPAIGN THIS EVENING

Plans Are Completed For the Big Republican Rally at the Dewey Theater.

Tonight the stalwart Republicans of this city are to meet in the Dewey Theater for the first big rally of the campaign.

Distinguished orators of the party are on the list of speakers and music will be provided to stir the spirits of the audience.

The house will be brilliantly illuminated for this meeting which is to be the largest gathering of the campaign.

The National ticket, the State ticket and the county ticket all will be enthusiastically ratified as eloquent speakers describe the merits of each section of the Republican candidates.

President Roosevelt and Senator Fairbanks' names will be advanced, and it is no difficult to guess what will occur when those names are spoken tonight by the silver-tongued orators of the party.

There will be one of those shouts that make the rafters ring.

Joseph R. Knowland, candidate of the Third district for Congress, will speak, and in the speech reveal some of that quality which induced the party to nominate him for the seat in Congress vacated by Hon. Victor H. Metcalf, now of the President's Cabinet.

Supervisors John Mitchell and H. D. Rowe, candidates for re-election, will make brief addresses, as will also State Senator G. R. Lukens, a candidate for re-election, and the following candidates for the Assembly: Phil M. Walsh, J. J. Burke and R. H. E. Espey.

Hon. Frank H. Short of Fresno will deliver the principal address of the evening. Clarence Crowell, chairman of the Republican County Central Committee, will call the meeting to order. John A. Britton is to act as chairman.

CARMEN WILL DISTANCE IN THE ORGANIZE SKY.

READING ROOM AND GYMNASIUM WILL SOON BE OPENED.

The local carmen will hold a meeting next Monday night to effect a permanent organization to arrange for and control the reading-room and gymnasium which is soon to be installed in the general office building of the Oakland Transit Consolidated at the corner of Jones street and San Pablo avenue for the benefit of the employees of the company. The Oakland Transit Consolidated has promised to assist the movement. The temporary officers at present in charge of the affair are: President, C. E. Parsons; secretary, C. A. Pierce; committee on law, John Thompson, J. Karney, J. W. Graves, H. Sommers, G. Williams, B. Ketchan, H. D. Wrenn; committee on organization, L. F. Latham, J. M. Silva, C. A. Silva, J. Stiles, N. T. McNelly, W. Whitaker, John O'Day.

The problem demands that in the conditions that obtain in the production measurement and reduction of a spectrographic plate of a star should be exactly reproduced in the production measurement and in general the reduction of the plate from which the fundamental data for velocity determinations are secured. The same spectrograph should produce both plates. They should be measured by the same observer with the same measuring engine. And, finally, they should be reduced in parallel.

These requirements are clearly most exacting, but as a suggestion of a means toward this end, I propose the following method, which, as far as I know, has never been applied in this way before.

The bulletin, containing twenty-one pages with numerous half one plates, gives a detailed account of the new method for the determination of the radial velocity of stars. The work was done by Mr. Curtis in partial fulfillment of the requirement for a degree of Doctor of Philosophy in the University of California.

FRANK NORRIS KILLED

FELL OFF TRAIN AND IS CRUSHED UNDER WHEELS.

RICHMOND, October 1.—Frank Norris, a painter working here, while returning from Oakland last evening, attempted to get off the moving train at Richmond-avenue station, and was thrown under the cars and killed. No one saw the accident, but it is supposed he got off the wrong side, struck a fence separating the tracks, and fell under the wheels. His remains were scattered for 200 yards along the track. He was a widower, 45 years old, and is said to have a child living in Oakland.

QUEER CASE OF CORONER

CONTRACTS FOR NEW BUILDINGS

PORTLAND, Ore., October 1.—Contracts for three of the principal buildings for the Lewis and Clarke Exposition have been let by the Board of Directors. The aggregate cost will be $5,444.

One of the buildings will be for machinery, electricity and transportation; one for mining and the third for amusements. The latter, Festival Hall, will be built by a local contractor, the other two by a California construction company. All the structures must be completed by February 1, 1905.

NOTED ENGINEERS VISIT THE STATE UNIVERSITY.

BERKELEY, October 1.—The Agricultural Department of the University of California had two notable visitors yesterday. They were P. H. Begemann, M. E. and R. A. Van Landick, General Secretary of the Royal Institute of Engineers, prominent engineers who are studying irrigation methods and conditions in California. They were especially interested in the activities of the Department of Irrigation.

Chiffon veils in all colors, with hemstitched and tucked borders, are on sale at 55 cents each.

Asthma Can Be Cured

The statement of Mr. J. F. Homan, 40 E. Adams St., Chicago, proves that the worst cases of Asthma in the world are not only relieved, but are readily cured by Dr. Schiffmann's Asthma Cure. He says: "Asthma kept me in terrible misery for ten years until I used your Asthma Cure. After the first trial I was a changed man. I went to sleep that night and awoke next day much relieved and I have gotten entirely over the Asthma. It is now nine years since I was cured."

Sold by all druggists at 50c and $1.00. Send 2c stamp to Dr. R. Schiffmann, Box 834 St. Paul, Minn., for a free trial package.

U. C. ASTRONOMER INVITES MACHINE TO MAKE MEASUREMENTS.

BERKELEY, October 1.—Ralph H. Curtis, a member of the Astronomical Department of the University of California, after a series of elaborate investigations at Lick Observatory has perfected a method for the measurement and reduction of spectrograms for the determination of the radial velocities of celestial objects which has practically eliminated the possibility of error.

For years astronomers all over the world have been striving for such a method as the one proposed by Curtis and the announcement of his discovery will be received with eagerness by scientific men in all parts of the country.

Concerning the problem with which he had to deal, Mr. Curtis says in a bulletin which has just been issued from the University Press containing an account of the new method:

"The problem demands that in the conditions that obtain in the production measurement and reduction of a spectrographic plate of a star should be exactly reproduced in the production measurement and in general the reduction of the plate from which the fundamental data for velocity determinations are secured. ## WIFE DID NOT FILE A CHARGE

Mrs. Lawrence Refuses to Prosecute Her Husband.

The rising and the setting of the sun has apparently a great effect on a lady's mind, as exemplified in the case of Mrs. G. E. Lawrence, who, in the early hours of yesterday morning, had her husband arrested for alleged battery, but failed to make an appearance against her rich young spouse in the Police Court.

According to the wife, a tempest of much more violence than one which rages in a sea pot broke out in her home yesterday morning after the clock had struck the hour of 2. She says that the young clubman attempted to strike her. She retaliated by making use of things easily thrown and afterwards called in Policeman Cockerton. The husband, when brought to the jail, bore the scars of a hard-fought battle in the mansion on Piedmont Heights. He showed a large lump on his head and a knife cut on his wrist.

The merits of the case were to be heard today before Acting Police Judge Geary, but the wife refused to appear to a complaint. This ended the matter and the case was dropped from the docket. Both of the young people whose domestic harmony was interrupted by the midnight struggle are independently wealthy.

Who Has Control of the Grand Jury in San Francisco.

Politicians Are Trying to Have Their Enemies Indicted.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 1.—There has been a large inquiry this week about "Who has the Grand Jury?" Inquiry develops an under-surface war that threatens the Ruef-Schmitz dominance far more than all the efforts of the dreamy-eyed reformers, or even the threat to drive Schmitz into the penitentiary made by so practical a politician as Gavin McNab.

The Ruef-Schmitz Police Commission closed up the grotto of the Belvedere, a drinking resort on O'Farrell street, owned in large part by Eddie Graney and Jimmy Crofforth. That made the eyes stick out, as Graney and Crofforth were supposed to be solid with the administration. The wise ones began casting about for explanations. Nothing seemed exactly satisfactory. Graney and Crofforth both had worked hard for the election of Schmitz. It was street talk that Crofforth had spent $2500 in the Mayor's interest and had won $7000 on the result. And here was a bolt from the blue.

It could be no moral spas that closed the Belvedere grotto for the town is full of similar places that are not molested—Morgan's "Orchard," Schiff & Dow's, Pratt & Tierney's "Orchard," "The Majestic" of Bacon & Fishlock, Jerome Bassitt's cellar on Market street—these are a few of the many. So it was evidently the Ruef-Schmitz Police Commission had taken a snash at Graney and Crofforth for some political reason.

Then suddenly the Grand Jury indicted one of the Ruef-Schmitz staffers. That same Grand Jury debated a long time whether they would not indict the entire Ruef-Schmitz election commission. This sudden action caused another opening of eyes.

A Grand Jury in San Francisco generally is a joke. It doesn't harm anybody that can demand protection of the forceful powers. This Grand Jury was looked upon as a particularly weak one. So when it took the quick smash at Ruef and Schmitz the wise men began asking more questions and looking closer into things.

Alfred Lilientfeld, the foreman of the jury, was once a Phil Ciminis candidate for Supervisor. Secretary Welch was once the secretary of the Reagan School Board. Bill Broderick was an office holder in the Buckley-Rainey days. J. C. Nealon was Assessor under the same regime. The list bristles with just such practiced and practical politicians. Dr. Drucker, once in trouble as member of a crooked School Board, is another specialist that comes to my mind. Yet this Grand Jury indicted the Ruef-Schmitz staffer and talked of indicting the Ruef-Schmitz Election Commission. No wonder the wise men questioned.

Then, in a flash, some one said: "Why Graney and Crofforth and Ciminis have got the Grand Jury. They are smashing back at Ruef and Schmitz." That makes a very pretty fight, doesn't it? In that sort of heroic scuffling more things are apt to happen than could be brought about by the reformers in a year of Sundays.

If it be true that Graney and Crofforth are potent in the Grand Jury there will be some fun afoot for Gavin McNab also. He has been after the Graney-Crofforth staffers with an unsparing hand. Now it is told that in the Forty-fourth district the McNab "end of it" did the stuffing in the recent primary scrap. Some evidence has been collected in that matter, and there are indications of an attempt to carry the war into the McNab territory. So now is the time to watch for interesting developments.

The Democrats open their campaign in this city to-morrow night. Presiding at the meeting will be Joseph Sadoc Tobin. Now the Democrats have been very strong in shouting down trusts and monopolies. That is their loudest cry. But Tobin is one of the men at the head of the United Railroad, and the United Railroads comes close to being the biggest thing in the way of monopolies in San Francisco.

In former years while Tobin was a Supervisor and an acting Mayor, he was very sharp in keeping the street railroads from grabbing the streets. Just now his corporation is grabbing streets and laying illegal curves, and the Schmitz administration has torn up a rail or two and called a halt.

In the days when Tobin was for tearing up the illegal tracks, the street railroads looked to W. F. Herrin's office for protection and advice. Now Herrin has nothing to do with the United Railroads, and Tobin is in a position of advice and protection. However, he is to preside at the Democratic mass meeting, and Senator Francis G. Newlands of Nevada is to make the principal speech. Presumably the trusts and monopolies will suffer as usual; but the Democracy is really getting very aristocratic.

It is a poverty-stricken aristocracy, however. It can raise little money for its campaign. The National Committee, notwithstanding all J. F. Tarpey's pleading, would not pay off the dead-horse debts of California's committee, and that committee is now housed in a few cheap rooms on a back alley.

The only notable accession to the Democratic ranks in California is ex-Congressman Woods, formerly of Stockton. He is out against President Roosevelt. It will be remembered that he once came back from Washington and, at a Union League Club speech, attacked the President and his policy. Then, when the California delegation recommended Woods for appointment as Naval Officer the President very sharply turned down the recommendation and left Colonel John P. Irish in the coveted office. There also was an amusing story of a leather suit-case sent to the President from Stockton and the President's refusal to accept it at the hands of Woods. So the ex-Congressman has reasons for the bile that is within him.

Here is the latest good story on Postmaster Arthur G. Fisk, who is making one of the most efficient postal officials ever known to San Francisco. In a company it was told how a letter once addressed from Europe, "Louis Stoss, America," found the man to whom it was directed out here in San Francisco. "Yes," said Fisk, approvingly. "The postal service is very efficient. The other day a letter came to the San Francisco office addressed, 'Arthur G. Fisk, San Francisco.' It went through several hands and remained in the general delivery for eight days. Then it went into the list of unclaimed letters, and the name 'Arthur G. Fisk' was put into the list sent to the printer for publication. The printer saw the name and notified me. Then I got my letter. Oh, the postal service is very accurate and efficient!"

Did you know that "the first gentleman in California" is an inmate of San Quentin prison? Well, here's the story:

When that English genealogical crank made up his list of citizens of America entitled to "eminent rank," as he called it, there was a note in that Jimmy Tucker was the only San Franciscan on the list. Tucker works for the gas company at $125 a month, but is as fine a gentleman as any one should care to know, and he is married to the sister of W. B. Bourn, who is president of that same gas company. "The Examiner" made a story about the notion that Tucker was the only San Franciscan entitled to "eminent rank," and this drew attention to the list. Then it was seen that the name Polk appeared thereon.

"Is that you who is entitled to the eminent rank?" was asked of Willis Polk, the architect.

"No," was the instant reply. "That's Bill Polk. He's a prisoner over in San Quentin now."

The political grafters have been after Red Hayes in a swarm since he was nominated for Congress in the Fifth district. One of them started the story that he had an income of $800 a day. That ought to make very good picking.

"Have you got him by the leg?" was asked of Charlie Shortridge, who had surprised everybody by going to a political meeting arm in arm with Hayes.

"No; both that man's legs are done up in plaster of paris," was the laughing reply.

Evidently Hayes is not as "easy" as the statesmen had hoped.

NEED ADDITIONAL FACILITIES FOR SCHOOLS

SUPERINTENDENT WATERMAN DECLARES ACCOMMODATIONS MUST BE INCREASED.

BERKELEY, October 1.—City Superintendent of Schools Waterman reports that there are now 2,100 children enrolled in the public schools. This is a large increase over the figures of last year.

The following is the list of pupils for the month of September:

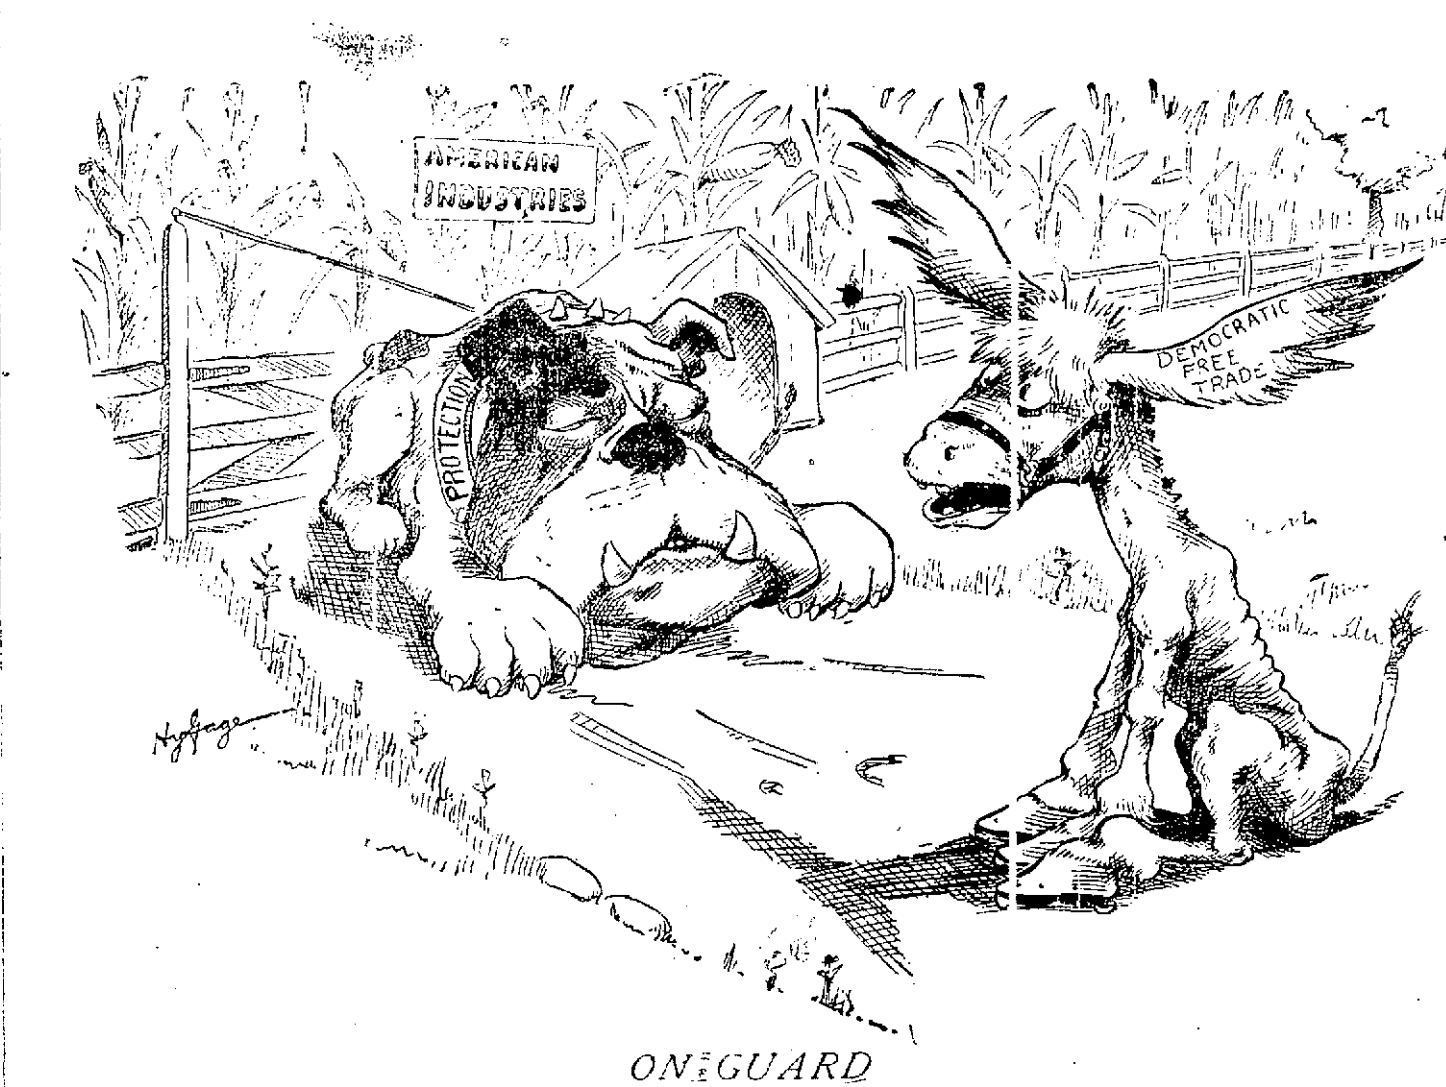

Number of boys enrolled	1,120
Number of girls enrolled	1,020
Total enrollment	2,140
Number of cases of tardiness	21
Average number belonging	3,553
Average daily attendance	3,553
Percentage of Attendance	97
Total number of different pupils enrolled for the year thus far	3,510

In referring to the great increase in the number of school children, Superintendent Waterman said:

"The necessity for providing more school rooms for the constantly increasing number of pupils must be apparent to all who understand the crowded condition of the schools in so many different parts of the town. We have at least twelve or more rooms having an enrollment of fifty or more children. Of course, in some of the rooms in the extreme portions of the town the number is small, but in all of the larger schools the average is much above what it ought to be for effective work."

"Additional rooms are needed at the San Pablo and the Columbus schools. In West Berkeley, while the limit for good work has been passed long ago in many of the rooms in the Whitaker, McKinley, the Le Conte and the Lincoln schools. The whole territory east of Telegraph avenue is being rapidly filled with residences and there is no school in that part of town to accommodate the children of those who are planning to make their homes there."

"The residents of Peralta Park have no school nearer than the San Pablo Avenue on the one side or the Webster on the other. The plan is for more rooms at the centers so that we may have fewer divisions in each room and, as a result, larger classes, a better classification of pupils and consequently better instruction. The small schools in the extreme limits of the town are, doubtless, necessary for the accommodation of the smaller pupils, but additional rooms should be furnished at once in those parts of the town where there is an overflow of students, or else

AID SOCIETY MEETS

MRS. WILLIAM HARRIS AND DAUGHTER ENTERTAIN AT PLEASANTON.

PLEASANTON, October 1.—Mrs. William Harris and daughter, Miss Lillie Harris, entertained the Ladies' Aid Society at their home on First street, Tuesday. It was a beautiful day and the ladies turned out in large numbers. The afternoon was spent in making aprons and doing fancy work, which was sold for the benefit of the church. During the business hour five new members were taken into the society, making a total membership of forty-six. The new members are Mrs. Dr. Avery, Mrs. Julia Schroeder, Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. Alfred, and Miss Jennie Avery. At five o'clock delicious cake and chocolate were served by Mrs. L. C. Walter.

COPIES ENTERTAIN. On Thursday afternoon Dr. and Mrs. William Cope were at home to about sixty of their friends. Cards were the main feature of the afternoon. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion with autumn flowers. During the afternoon dainty refreshments were served.

FORESTERS TO GIVE BALL. The Foresters' lodge will give a ball on October 7 at Nevil's Pavilion. The following committee has charge of the affair: Earl Downing, Charles Gale and Joe Enos Banks.

PERSONALS. Mrs. Benedict has returned from a month's visit in Santa Cruz. Mrs. A. R. Downing was in San Francisco the first of the week. George A. Kelley was in San Francisco Thursday. George W. Deljens went to San Mateo Thursday.

AMERICAN VICE-CONSUL FINED. NEW YORK, October 1.—Arthur Dunn Platt, American vice consul, has been fined 10 shillings, according to an American dispatch from Dublin, for furious riding on a motor cycle within the city limits. His case was heard in a police court.

The French style of pillow case—open in the back—is the newest notion. These are often embellished with hummocked hems in spoked, or ladder style, or with hand-embroidered and scalloped edges.

THIS COURT PROTECTS AN INHUMAN FATHER.

Boy Beaten For Watching Circus Parade; Parent's Action Upheld by Judge.

CHICAGO, October 1.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Sheboygan, Wis., says: A father may thrash his son until stripes are raised without being liable to arrest for assault, provided the boy is not old enough to have his dignity injured, according to a decision of Judge Kirwan in the Circuit Court.

Frank Radloff, contractor, was acquitted of thrashing his 9-year-old boy with a whip because the boy watched a circus parade.

OPENS TRAINING SCHOOL

NEW INSTITUTION IS READY TO BEGIN GOOD WORK.

The Pacific Coast Normal Industrial and Training Institute is organized with officers and faculty. Every branch of this school is open for pupils of both sexes, with the exception of the dancing and farming classes, which will open in the near future. The different departments of the school are very thoroughly fitted up and have every appearance of a bright and useful future. The carpenter and cabinet shop has a large class of interesting young men. The printing and other branches of the school need commendation. As a whole, the school is a worthy enterprise of the race and should be encouraged by every lover of the race. The school is backed by some of the most distinguished men of the race, lawyers, editors and others of equal standing. The principal is a man of very great experience as a teacher. The faculty is made up of men who are artists in their several professions. Lectures will be given by prominent clergy, lawyers and doctors in their different professions. Such able men as Rev. Dr. Dille, Dr. S. K. Brown, Rev. Father Morley, His Hon. Judge S. P. Hall, His Hon. Judge Henry A. Melvin, His Hon. D. Kinsell and others will assist in the instruction of the pupils. The school doors are open to visitors for inspection from 9 a. m. till 7 p. m., and will be shown through the different departments.

The support of the school will come largely from the real estate and commercial bureau and the assistance of our friends. The public will find a warm

COMPEL STUDENTS TO GET REPORTS

BERKELEY, October 1.—The lockless students of the Berkeley High School who were so unfortunate to come to school yesterday without their report cards, were compelled to walk home and get them before they could enter the school. Despite the protests and the storm of indignation that arose, Principal Morris C. James of the school ordered over a hundred of the pupils to go home and get their report cards. It seems that in the past the students have been very negligent in returning the report cards after they have been signed by their parents, often keeping them out for more than two weeks, thereby causing great delay to the teachers in making out their reports. This time Principal James determined to make an example of the delinquent students, and he issued a rule Wednesday, when the cards were given out, that they must all be returned by Friday morning. Many thought that the rule would not be strictly enforced, and as a consequence missed their first recitations today.

TOURNAMENT FOR ST. PATRICK'S FAIR

The "500" Club of West Oakland will give a whist tournament on Thursday evening, October 6, in the Auditorium, Tenth and Pershing streets. There will be many handsome and valuable prizes given the winners. The affair is given for the benefit of St. Patrick's Jubilee Fair, which commences October 15. Tickets, 25 cents.

Leather bags, trunks and travelling cases are just now among the bargains, being reduced one-third in price.

GANS-WALCOTT WHICH?

REFEREE SAYS A DRAW—SPORTING MEN ARE DIVIDED ON THAT SCORE.

Did Referee Jack Welch give a fair decision when, at the conclusion of the twentieth round, he declared last night's fight between Joe Gans and Joe Walcott to be a draw?

This is the question many fight fans are discussing today. Opinion is divided. Many arguments are advanced pro and con. Men who didn't see the battle argue louder than those who were at the ringside. It is the sole topic of conversation about local sporting headquarters. Never has any pugilistic encounter aroused such an aftermath. Sporting writers on the dailies about the bay disagree. And, of course, so do the principals themselves. The official selected to decide the mill was Jack Welch. He called it a draw. That's the way the fight looked to him, so let it rest.

Those of you who were at the ringside saw a great battle—one of the best in the history of San Francisco. You received your money's worth and lost nary a cent if you had a few eagles on a probable winner. Those of you who didn't see the affair pugilistic, well, repent.

It was the lightweight championship and the welterweight championship of the world—both dark skinned—that met in Woodward's last night. Neither, however, weighed in the light or welter class. Both tipped the scales below 141 pounds, within one pound of the welterweight bracket.

Throughout the contest Gans easily displayed the fact that he is the cleverer of the two. Walcott, however, showed that he is the stronger and in last night's contest proved to be the called Referee Welch, so he states, to call the battle a draw.

Neither man was floored during the entire twenty rounds. Again, neither fighter drew blood from his opponent. Still many walloping blows were struck.

The most effective blow exhibited by Walcott was a right swing to the kidneys. He used this punch frequently in the first half of the fight and beyond at question the blows weakened Gans. The spot where they landed took on a reddish tinge and on several occasions his mouth was drawn in pain. Later in the mill Gans learned to protect this spot by squeezing inside of the swing and by countering with his right to the jaw.

Very little effort was made by Gans to end his opponent's body. He fought for his head, using both right and left. In several rounds he sent his darker companion's head back with his jolty rights and lefts, but at no time was Walcott in the writer's opinion, dazed very greatly by the blows. In the eighth round Gans fought his opponent's food receptacle for a few, but this was the only period in which he made a determined search for this point. Gans gave Walcott the best walloping in the ninth round. In this bracket he learned to avoid the Boston Joe's kidney punch and counter with his right. Baltimore Joe landed here that made Walcott's head jump back and caused him to utter a grunt.

The men fought on for twenty rounds. One period would be taken by the lightweight by a slight advantage, the next by Walcott. Both came up strong for the twentieth round and finished that period about even. Then came Referee Welch's decision of a draw. The crowd booed quite a bit, there was some cheering and the greatest fight, perhaps, between negroes was down in ring history.

THE PRELIMINARY.

The preliminary to the main event was furnished by Mike Sullivan and Joe Angeli. The affair lasted until the middle of the seventh round when a captain of police ordered the mill stopped and gave the decision to Sullivan. It was Sullivan's battle all the way through. The brother of the "Twin" was Angeli's master at every proceeding. Before the contest had reached the second round Mike found Joe's nose for blood and he kept taping this portion of Angeli's face until the boy's body was almost covered with the gore. Angeli was game, however, and kept coming back for more.

RINGSIDE NOTES.

Master of Ceremonies Billy Jordan, introduced Jack and Mike Sullivan as the only pair of twin fighters in the world. The "Twin" did not exhibit any marks showing that he had been in an encounter with McCoy. In the sixteenth round Gans hit Referee Welch a good crack on the jaw. He didn't mean it, but perhaps now he's glad he had that much satisfaction in return for the decision.

Walcott entered the ring attired in loved in a robe of much quieter colors.

The men were weighed in at the ringside. Herford couldn't trust the scales and had a bar of iron, whose weight he knew, hefted to see if the scales were right. There was no kick coming.

Gans just made the weight fixed at 141 pounds tremble as he stepped on the scales in his gown, shoes, hand bandages and fighting trunks. Walcott weighed in as nature made him. He failed to lift the weight.

A delay of half an hour or more was caused by the disappearance of Walcott from the ring. He was found in his dressing room drinking beef tea and having his hands dressed with tape.

A further delay was caused when he made his re-appearance. Herford objected to the tape and Walcott was compelled to take off a yard or two.

Some lady friend sent a bunch of lilies to Gans, but Herford refused to allow the flowers to be brought to the corner. "He's no dead one," declared Herford.

Jack Johnson made his appearance just before the fight was on and announced through Billy F. Jordan that he was willing to fight any man in the world.

Then came Billy Otts carrying a cane and a straw hat also a desire in his head to fight anyone, black or white at 140 pounds.

Bilt then answered the calls and made the declaration which is given in another column. Then the fight was on.

TRIBUNES PLAY LAST GAME

MEET THE SAN LEANDRO NINE
TOMORROW ON SUBURBAN DIAMOND.

The Tribune baseball team will meet the San Leandro nine Sunday afternoon on the Suburban diamond.

The Tribune aggregation has been very successful this season. The team has won eighteen games out of twenty-three played.

The amateurs have played nines composed of players much older and larger than themselves. Still the youngsters have been victorious.

The game tomorrow will close the season for The Tribune team. It will be reorganized next season, however, with many of this season's players in the lineup.

Deheny and "Bill" Fey. The game should attract a large crowd, not only on account of the good cause or which it is to be played, but also on account of the good game which these bill-tossers can put up. Buchanan will umpire the game. This will be the first appearance of Oakland's leading twirler in the role of umpire.

EQUALS HIS OWN RECORD

MAJOR DELMAR SUCCEEDS IN GOING THE MILE IN 2:02 1/4.

Major Delmar succeeded in equaling his world's record of 2:02 1/4 at Oakley Park yesterday. He was piloted by A. P. Macdonald, while Scott Hudson drove the runner.

Sunny Slope captured the 114 class pace. Sweet Marie won the 106 class trot and Nancy H. annexed the 2:17 class pace.

Woodlawn Belle took the feature event at Chicago yesterday. By winning the race she brought to her own R. Runc Rester, a purse of $15,000. This was the second start of the filly this year. Her last event at Hawthorne resulted in a victory also.

Favorites had a hard day at Worth yesterday. Copperfield was the only horse who rewarded his backers.

Dick Bernard, owned by Smathers, won the Seabreeze stakes at New York yesterday. He was under a drive all the way as The Southerner pressed him closely. Martinmas, another favorite, was also a winner.

David Gideo's Eschutcheon displayed wonderful form, taking his event in a gallop. Coy Maid annexed the fifth event. She was ridden by H. Lebranc.

AT SPENCER'S ARE EDISON RECORDS

Why pay any more for Edison records than 35 cents each when you can get them at that price at Spencer's phonograph parlors, 472 Seventh street? These records are gold-moulded, and they are the same rich, full volume, pure toned records that have made the Edison product famous. They are perfect reproductions of sound. Mr. Spencer is the sole agent in Oakland for these noted records. Drop in and hear some of them play at a penny each.

OAKLAND PLAYS GREAT BALL

DOCTOR MOSKIMAN LARGELY RESPONSIBLE FOR THE BIG WIN.

"Doc" Moskiman's masterly twirling, aided by gilt-edge work on the part of his bidders, was responsible for Portland's defeat at the hands of the Oaks in the Northern city yesterday. The Browns swung in vain at the leather, and were not able to score a single tally during the game. The Commuters on the other hand had their choice collection of willows with them, and used them to good advantage, making five runs.

Runkle, who is Dugdale's latest acquisition, threw the ball away in the fifth, which cost a brace of tallies. Starkells, the fat manager's new pitcher, twirled the kind of ball which will hold his team in the basement for many months.

San Francisco fans had an opportunity of witnessing one of the most sensational games of baseball ever played at Recreation Park yesterday. The Angels and the Seals were pitted against each other, the latter putting the winning run over the pan in the last inning. The score 2 to 1 is sufficient evidence of the good quality of the stunts performed.

Wheeler was on the firing line for the Seals, while Dr. Newton handled the shots for the Southerners. Twirling honors were about even, each man working as steady as a clock.

The San Franciscans managed to register one run in the first frame, and from that time, so far as the scoring was concerned the scoring ceased. The Angels tied the score in the fourth and won the game in the ninth.

Flood, Chase, Gochanner and Waldron captured the fielding honors, their work being sensational at times.

After nearly half of the regular Tacoma and Seattle players had been retired at Tacoma yesterday, the Tigers managed to win the game by the score of five to four. A decision by Umpire Brown in the seventh inning aroused the ire of the Siwashers, who did not hesitate about expressing their opinion of the wielder of the indicator. Boyle, an amateur, was tied in the box and was effective until the seventh, when Frisk was substituted.

Singles by Frisk, Delbanty and Smith, Leahy's sacrifice and R. Hall's home run gave Seattle her only runs.

A. W. Connelly, a twirler with quite a reputation among the grocery clerks will do the pitching for the grocery clerks.

REV. DWIGHT POTTER WILL RESIGN

Rev. Dwight L. Potter, who for the past six years has been the pastor of the Union-street Presbyterian Church, will to-morrow present his resignation to the church. He has no definite plans for the future other than he contemplates entering the foreign missionary work. During his pastorate at the Union-street Church he has met with exceptional success. The service on Sunday will complete his sixth year of service and he will briefly review the work that has been accomplished in that time.

WOMAN'S CLUB WILL MEET.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Civic Improvement Club will be held on Monday, October 3, at 3 p. m. in the Chabot Observatory. A resume of the year's work will be given and officers for the coming year elected. In addition C. F. Ott, Superintendent of Streets, is to speak on "City Streets, and How Women Can Help Make and Keep Them." Members will please note the change of hour.

Interest in 122 months. $14.00 a month per $1000 repays loan and interest in 37 months. $16.00 a month per $1000 repays loan and interest in 32 months. Why this difference? Because the San Francisco and Suburban Building and Loan Society saves the middleman's profit, that is, it maintains its own bureau of architects and builders, buying material in immense quantities and constructing a dozen houses at one time. It is able to save the builder over $300 on every $3000 loan. Another feature: No incidentals, extras, etc., are figured in to run up the cost of the home. This society is building scores of the best homes in Oakland and Berkeley, as well as San Francisco. Home builders bear these facts in mind.
